In Autumn 2014 Kindfund will celebrate 10 years of work and witness in Northern Kenya! As part of that celebration we are bringing some children from our children's homes to reach out to communities in the UK and Ireland. Some will share their life stories, others will participate through drama. And the children will bring the joy, enthusiasm and movement which is characteristic of Kenyan Christian worship.

A NOTE FROM THE BISHOP

One of the more bewildering features of television discussions these days is the need which everyone feels to introduce a lot of statistics no matter what is being discussed. I was never particularly good at maths at school (to put it mildly) and I have always found it difficult to have to take in reams of statistics about the state of the economy, or the health service or rugby matches or whatever is under discussion.

It was probably Mark Twain (who else) who said "there are three types of lies: lies, damned lies and statistics", although he was careful to attribute it to a dead politician - Benjamin Disraeli.

Probably it all has to do with "evidence based" decision making. So, like it or not, statistics can be helpful as being one way of considering how we should plan for the future. In my view it is not the only way, and there are all sorts of other considerations which need to be taken into consideration, especially where the church is concerned.

Nevertheless, it was for the practical reason of simply trying to get some sort of accurate picture of the numbers of people attending church on an average Sunday that the recent census was conducted across every parish in the Church of Ireland.

Strange as it may seem, until then, if I had been asked the question "Roughly how many people go to church every Sunday in the Diocese of Clogher" I would not have been able to give an answer with any degree of confidence. Now I can say "about four thousand".

I'm not quite sure if that number seems big or small to you. I suppose it depends on what the overall Church of Ireland population of the Diocese is (I think about 16,000), which would mean that not much over a quarter of those claiming to be Church of Ireland are in church on Sunday. And of course we should add to that figure those who have been faithful attending church in the past but are now not able to because of illness or infirmity.

The only other statistic that I want to mention at this time is that around 30% of those attending church on an average Sunday are under the age of twenty-five. I mention it because it is easy to think that a younger generation has abandoned the Church, but, in fact, many are at worship week by week and that gives us an opportunity to make an impression on minds and habits of devotion which could be critical for the future of the Church of Ireland (and to some degree for the whole Christian Church) in this part of the world.

A great deal of analysis still needs to be done on the figures to see what other encouragements and warnings that they might yield but I want to make a few general remarks to put the figures in a wider context.

The Rt Revd John McDowell

The first is that size isn't everything. There are some very small Church of Ireland communities where a very high percentage of the population are very faithful in church attendance and in providing a witness in the communities where they live. Equally there are places where we are numerically very strong but where attendance is not so good and where our vocation as witness to the resurrection life is not good. We need to learn the lessons of these examples and not to shy away from them. Not least we can learn that a small number of people committed to being examples of the love of God in their community will have an influence far beyond their number.

Of course deep beneath the attendance figures lie living, believing and praying people. Our people: you and me. And statistics shouldn't be allowed to draw our attention away from the fact that we are surrounded by people who have a spiritual (indeed and an eternal) aspect to their lives which is often tender and always sacred.

As our horizons have expanded through the findings of science and the use of technology, there is always the danger that we will, consciously or unconsciously, assume that we are not significant to God as individuals. In a cosmos of hundreds of thousands of galaxies most of which are bigger than our own, what difference does it make if I believe or live out my beliefs.

In a world that is so complexly inter-related that a trader over-confidently selling a particular type of mortgage in New York can cause the collapse of half a dozen European economies, what does it really matter how I behave?

Even at a personal level where we now know that we inherit many characteristics and tendencies both in health and temperament more or less from the moment of our conception, what can I do to make that different (or to make a difference) amidst all the other struggles which life brings?

But against all the statistics in the world and all of the forces that seem to leave us little room for personal responsibility or initiative, we need to set the promises of the Gospel and the gift of the Spirit.

It is both individuals and communities who have the courage and the determination to say that we will not allow anything to be an excuse for not reaching out through the love of God and with all the values of His Kingdom, who will not be slaves to statistics or to other deep-seated forces which the gospel gives us assurance can be marginalised and overcome.

Bishop John McDowell and his daughter, Dorothy, reflect on C.S. Lewis as the 50th anniversary of Lewis' death is observed

C.S. Lewis – the Belfastman, the writer

By Bishop John McDowell

Because he died on the same day that President Kennedy was assassinated (22nd November 1963), the passing of C. S. Lewis, one of the great prophets of his age, passed almost unremarked. Perhaps the only random connection between the two events was that the fatal shots in Dallas were fired from a Book Depository. The succinct beauty of Austen Farrer's eulogy at Lewis' funeral would only ever be known to a few enthusiasts. On a sunny day in early September in 1971, I went to a cupboard outside the Headmaster's study in the Belfast school I attended which contained a small library of books thought to be especially suitable to supplement the reading of pupils studying for public examinations to look for something interesting to read.

The collection of books had been the inspiration of the only female teacher in an all boy's school and my motives were mixed. I chose two thin paperbacks. One was the first volume of Evelyn Waugh's Sword of Honour trilogy and the other was C.S. Lewis' Mere Christianity. In my ignorance I thought a book by a female author might put me in fine favour along with the Lewis, who I knew was an Belfastman.

He must also be the only man or woman who underwent at least the final phase of his conversion while travelling in a motor bike sidecar on his way to Whipsnade zoo.

They were among the first books that I found true delight in, even joy, to use a favourite word of Lewis. Both were revolutionary in their own way.

Waugh's literary technique numbered him (believe it or not) among the modernists for a time, and his ability to establish a character in two or three lines of dialogue still seems to be almost a miracle to me.

Lewis' book was really a collection of Broadcast talks he had been asked to make during the Second World War, and they still bear the marks of the issues which war can raise. But the technique of broadcasting religious topics, especially by a layman, was rather unusual especially in an organisation like the BBC.

Disliked then and now by many academic theologians, Lewis was always understandable (but never easy). His children's fiction was also thought to be a bit under par by his friend J.R.R. Tolkien, but is read with real happiness by millions of children today, and has the merit of not attracting po-faced zealots in the way that The Lord of the Rings has.

Lewis has, however, attracted a legion of academic researchers and biographers, the latest being the noted Northern Irish theologian, Alistair McGrath, whose recent biography of Lewis is genuinely novel, authoritative and readable.

Remembered and read today for his children's books and his Christian apologetics, especially in the USA (where they are less sniffy about intelligible theology than in Europe), his greatest works are those in his academic speciality - Medieval and Renaissance Literature. To read his wonderful History of English Literature in the Sixteenth Century is to be transported to the English School in Oxford in the 1940s and to appreciate why he was such a star turn as a lecturer.

In more recent years, Lewis became something of a living presence to me. St Mark's, Dundela, where I was rector for almost ten years, was the place of his baptism and confirmation. His grandfather was rector there and on the south side aisle there is a very unusual stained glass window which Lewis and his brother Warren had erected in memory of their parents, both parishioners of Dundela, his mother dying tragically young.

Many people (some of whom said that they owed him their soul) made pilgrimages to the church, indeed often boatloads of Americans arrived, usually joining in our worship if they were there on Sundays or Saints days.

Almost all of them were shown around by a parishioner, the late Tony Wilson, an incomparable guide and gentleman. One of Lewis' few remaining blood relatives was a faithful parishioner and I continue to sit on the Trustee Body of a sporting association with one of the descendants of Lewis' longest-lasting friend, Arthur Greeves.

Every day in those years, I walked or drove past Little Lea, the house of "long corridors and empty rooms" which inspired an important scene in The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe, and looked up at the Castlereagh Hills where Lewis loved to walk during his annual trips home. It had been built by his father and was, according to Lewis, a good example of his father's gift for being swindled.

Probably mistakenly, I feel I know him.

A Teenager's Account of C.S. Lewis

By Dorothy McDowell

A lion, a lamppost and a girl named Lucy, what do they have in common?

Much as it sounds like the start of a very bad joke, it's actually the formula for one of the greatest children's novels of all time. And a winning formula it turned out to be because now, some seventy years after it was written, you'd be hard pressed to find someone who hasn't read The Lion The Witch And The Wardrobe.

But why has C.S. Lewis' work survived so long? How has a novel that could so easily have become outdated managed to connect with children born decades after its author's death?

If asked, practically everyone could give you a different answer to this but life's too short to go stopping random people in the street, so I shall attempt to cover the question on my own.

The Narnia books stand, if not alone, in a sparsely populated area of children's books where it isn't always evident that there's going to be a happy ending. About halfway through you have to stop and think, 'Hang on, I'm not sure they're going to get out of this'.

This is helped, in no small part, by the presence of genuinely scary villains – I should be several years too old for being scared of characters in books, but the thought of meeting Queen Jadis still sends shivers down my spine. And this, though it may not sound it, is a good thing: nothing's predictable, nothing's obvious, you want to keep reading to see what happens.

They are also almost completely free from figures of authority – parents, teachers, anything of that order. There's the Professor and his housekeeper, but they don't really count, there are older siblings, but they're still children.

This not only widens the limits of what the main characters can do but it also has a certain appeal to young readers - the idea that, no matter how disastrous the consequences of it may be, people like them are in control.

But, above all else, what makes these stories special is that they are believable. Yes, they're set in a place with an eternal winter; yes, they're about centaurs and fauns; yes, one of their main characters is a talking lion; but when you're reading them you really feel like you could get up, climb into the nearest wardrobe and walk straight in to Narnia. And, even more than that, you want to.

You want to meet Aslan, and Mr Tumnus, and Beaver, and Lucy, and Edmund, and Susan, and Peter. You want to inhabit their world. Granted you'd probably be turned into a stone statue by the end of the week, but still...

Narnia survives because we want it to, and I have no doubt that in another fifty years' time someone else will be sitting trying to think how to start an article on the magic of a lion a witch and a wardrobe.

Church leaders call on rich nations for food security

Archbishop Barry Morgan

The Archbishop of Wales and Bishop of Derby have written to the UK Government to press their Australian counterparts to ensure that a priority for the G20 in Brisbane this year will be ending the scandal of 1 billion people going hungry every day.

Most Revd Dr Barry Morgan of Wales and Rt Revd Alastair Redfern, who is the Church of England's spokesperson on international development, have written to Prime Minister David Cameron on behalf of the Anglican Alliance, which brings together development, relief and advocacy across the Anglican Communion.

Food security is a priority for the Anglican Alliance which supported the work of Anglicans in responding to the famine in the Horn of Africa in 2011, and to the food crises facing communities in Asia and the Pacific. In their letter, the two leaders said that progress had been made at the 2013 G20 Summit giving priority to food security, with a focus on smallholder and family farmers, and the empowerment of women, who are the majority of small scale farmers.

"We in the Anglican Church, which is present in many of the world's poorest countries, have as a key part of our mission to overcome poverty and injustice, a commitment to ensure that no-one has to go hungry in a world of such plenty. We see it as a priority that the world's 20 richest nations should do everything in our power to overcome the hunger that still affects so many of our fellow human beings," they said.

The Anglican Alliance is a charitable company and part of the world-wide Anglican Communion with 88 million members in over 160 countries, including a major presence in 13 of the G20 countries. About half of all Anglicans are in Africa, including in some of the poorest countries where hunger and poverty are major problems.

Archbishop of York claims church is more popular than football

The Archbishop of York has claimed the church is more popular than football.

In a Christmas message, Dr John Sentamu, said an estimated 15 million people in England go to church on Christmas Day.

Writing in The Sun, the Ugandan-born cleric said: "Churchgoing is often associated with words like 'decline' but it is still the biggest weekly gathering there is in our country, outstripping combined attendance at football matches every week - and we don't even get a supplement on Monday with all the best bits!"

Archbishop

The archbishop said the Church of England conducts 1,000 weddings, 2,000 christenings and 3,000 funerals every week, and one million children go to 5,000 Church of England schools every day.

The church supports communities over the festive period with food banks, domestic refuges, hospital visits and homeless shelters, Dr Sentamu said.

Inviting people to church, the former Yorkshire Man of the Year added: "Faith is woven so deeply into our society that those who seek to write it off are often confounded by the way in which the church is involved in all areas of life."

Anglican Church in Namibia admits its first nuns

The Diocese of Namibia of the Anglican Church of Southern Africa made history recently when it admitted its first celibate nuns during a ceremony held at the Onekwaya West Mission Station in the Ohangwena Region.

The Church's secretary and treasurer, Father Lukas Kaluwapa Katenda, said three young Namibian women took their vows of celibacy, poverty and obedience as Sisters of the Order of the Good Samaritan, a new religious order in the Anglican Church of Southern Africa. "This is the first in the history of the Anglican Church in Namibia," he said.

Archbishop Welby affirms his commitment to reconciliation between Eastern and Western churches

The Archbishop of Canterbury affirmed his commitment to the reconciliation of Eastern and Western churches during a meeting with His All-Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew in Istanbul.

During their meeting Archbishop Justin said that Patriarch Bartholomew had been "an example of peace and reconciliation, politically, with the natural world, and in his historic visit to the installation of His Holiness Pope Francis I. "Such reconciliation is very dear to my heart and is one of my key priorities. It is the call of Christ that all may be one so that the world may see. We want to carry the cross of our divisions, but be filled with the hope and joy that comes from the grace and the love of Jesus."

Archbishop Justin travelled to Istanbul at the invitation of Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew, who occupies the First Throne of the Orthodox Christian Church.

Australian Priest presides at her centenary Eucharist

There have been many 'firsts' for Anglican women in recent years, but the Eucharist celebrated by the Revd Elizabeth Alfred must outshine them all, as she presided at Holy Communion on her 100th birthday!

The service took place in Melbourne, Australia. Frail after some weeks of illness, she had feared she might have to abort her long-held dream of presiding on her 100th birthday.

After the service she said during her recent illness "she had been upheld by the prayers of all her friends, and the knowledge that Jesus was always beside me."

Hymnology dictionary launched

A new web-based resource called "The Canterbury Dictionary of the Hymnology" has been launched. It is the first attempt to replace John Julian's "A Dictionary of Hymnology" (first publishing in 1892) in more than a century.

It is intended to be an essential reference resource for scholars of global hymnody, with information on the hymns of many countries and languages.

The dictionary includes more than 4,000 individual entries on writers, composers, hymns and songs, and feature articles on major figures and movements in worldwide hymnology.

CHURCH OF IRELAND NEWS

Statement on Haass proposals by the Archbishop of Armagh

Richard Clarke

'Although deeply disappointed, as so many must be, that full agreement between the five political parties of Northern Ireland on the Haass proposals has not been reached at this juncture, we still hope for future rapprochement. We are truly grateful to the huge efforts put in by Dr Richard Haass, Professor Meghan O'Sullivan and their team. We continue to pray that their careful groundwork will indeed come to valuable fruition in the future.

One of the most powerful biblical concepts that we can reflect on is the word "forbearance". It is not the same as patience, although it is clearly associated with it. Forbearance essentially means not demanding everything we believe we could legitimately or even reasonably demand of another person; it is a "holding back" of ourselves in a spirit of generosity. It describes God's dealings with humankind and it is what God therefore demands of us in our dealings with one another. A spirit of forbearance within us all is assuredly a prerequisite to a good and wholesome future in 2014 for Northern Ireland.

Dr Haass used an interesting phrase when he said that the time had come "to fish or cut bait". The origins of this phrase in the nineteenth century suggested a third option - "to fish, cut bait, or leave the boat". Further time cutting bait may be necessary for our political leaders but none must metaphorically leave the boat. The people of Northern Ireland deserve a renewed and strenuous collaborative effort for an authentic peace from all those involved in its political processes.'

Pat Storey consecrated as Bishop of Meath & Kildare

The Service of Ordination and Consecration of the Revd Pat Storey as Bishop of Meath and Kildare took place at Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin on 30th November 2013, the Feast of St Andrew.

The service – an historic event as the first woman bishop was consecrated in these islands – was led by the Archbishop of Dublin, The Most Revd Dr Michael Jackson and the preacher was the Revd Nigel Parker, Rector of the Parish of St Comgall, Bangor.

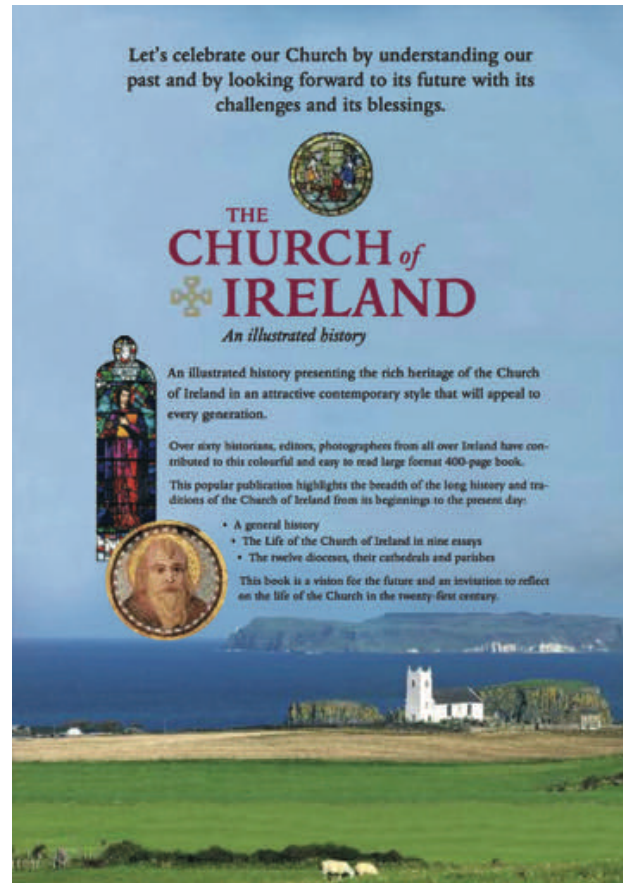

The congregation brought together over 500 people drawn from across the Church of Ireland and wider Irish society.

A reception was held in the State Apartments at Dublin Castle following the service.

Church of Ireland illustrated history

A superbly produced, colourful and comprehensive new book entitled The Church of Ireland – An Illustrated History published by Booklink has been launched in both Belfast and Dublin.

The new 400-page book is produced in hardback and full-colour. The Archbishop of Armagh and Archbishop of Dublin state in their foreword to it: "This volume comprises the work of over sixty historians, editors and photographers from all over Ireland with a diverse range of interests and approaches.

"Each tells the story of the Church in his or her own way and the variety of this material reflects the diversity within the Church of Ireland itself. This book achieves the remarkable task of covering every group of parishes, with illustrations of over two thirds of all the churches."

Copies of the book can be purchased from the Diocesan Office (telephone 028 66 347879) for a reduced price of £20.

Campaigner's posthumous gift given to Ireland's first woman bishop

A cross which was left as a gift by one of Ireland's foremost campaigners for the ordination of women was presented to the Bishop of Meath and Kildare, the Most Revd Pat Storey.

Daphne Wormell left the cross in her will in 2001 with the request that it be presented to the first woman bishop in the Church of Ireland. Bishop Storey received the cross when she launched Daphne's biography "With Dignity and Grace" by Daphne Wormell and her daughter Julia Turner.

Daphne Wormell first made the case for women priests in 1970. In 1996 she was awarded an honorary MA degree by Dublin University for her work in this area and for her contribution to Trinity College Dublin. In November 2000 she and four other women celebrated the 25th anniversary of their commissioning as female lay readers in the Church of Ireland. She was also chair of the Women's Ministry Group.

Money donated is being used to provide basic food, water, water purification tablets, tarpaulin, soap, hygiene kits and medical supplies.

Donations can still be made by sending a cheque to: Bishops' Appeal, Church of Ireland House, Church Avenue, Dublin 6 or by contacting Lydia Monds on 00 353 1 4125610.

Kesh Rural Deanery Praise Service

A large crowd of young, and the young-at-heart, from Kesh Rural Deanery and beyond gathered in the Fountain Centre, Kesh for a praise service on the evening of Sunday 24th November. The service was organised by the clergy of Kesh Rural Deanery, namely Archdeacon Cecil Pringle, Canon Glenn West, Revd Henry Blair, Revd Alan Irwin and Revd Ngozi Njoku. The parishes of the Rural Deanery include Belleek, Castle Archdale, Colaghty, Derryvullen North, Drumkeeran, Garrison, Kiltyclogher, Magheraculmonee, Muckcross, Slavin and Templecarne.

The Rural Dean, the Revd Canon Glenn West, opened the evening with a word of welcome, and introduced the praise band 'Committed' from Colaghty Parish, who led the worship. Comprising of eight talented young musicians, including vocals, keyboard, accordion, violins, guitars, bass and drums, the band's lively music provided a great opportunity for those present to join together in praise and worship. The prayers were led by Jason Blair and Rachel Crawford of Maghaculmonee parish, and the Revd Ngozi Njoku, Rector of the Garrison Group of Parishes, read a lesson from John 10 about the Good Shepherd, and preached an inspiring address on the subject. Revd Ngozi also gave her own personal testimony and spoke about the abundant joy which Jesus gives when we live a life devoted to him, removing the mask of our own dignity, and living instead in the integrity of Jesus.

A retiring collection of £396.90 was raised for Bishops' Appeal going to support the Philippines disaster.

The evening concluded with refreshments and fellowship. The clergy of the rural deanery are hoping to jointly run other events in the future.

MOTHERS' UNION NEWS

Dear Fellow Members
It is difficult to think that we are at the start of another year in the Mothers' Union calendar. Thank you for your support and care for the Mothers' Union over the past year, and especially to me as I attempt to come to grips with my role as Diocesan President. As we start this New Year, it is wonderful to remember that God is with us at all times, not just as we remember the God made flesh in the incarnation of his Son, Jesus, but throughout our journey into a New Year, - to shepherd us, to guide, direct, even to rebuke us, but still, like a loving parent to welcome us with loving and caring arms when we need forgiveness.

"Thou shall call him Emmanuel" – God with us, so spoke the Angel to Joseph. He is with us; he understands what we are going through, whatever that may be; he not only sympathises with our pain, he empathises with every situation.

May you each be aware of his presence and peace in 2014 and at all times, and may we all be aware of his guidance as we "Sow the future together", our theme for 2014.

Yours in Christ
Margaret

My Trip to Canada!

I arrived in Toronto Airport on the 28th June with my three friends, (Sophie Robinson, Alice Rooney and Jane Simpson). I was surprised to see that it was raining, and so I felt right at home!

Pastor Anne picked us up at the Airport, and we headed off to our new home in Brampton, Ontario!

The First week we spent our time sightseeing, visiting the CN Tower, Toronto Zoo and of course- Niagara Falls. It was fantastic! When I stood beside the Falls I got completely soaked, which was lovely as it was 30 degrees that particular day!

On Sundays we went to the Church of the Nazarene where we would be taking part in the Vacation Bible School. I could not believe how culturally diverse the church was as there were people from Spain, Trinidad and Tabago, Scotland and Canada! We were greeted with open arms and kisses and felt really welcome. We even got the nickname 'JARS' by Hugh!

Every Tuesday evening we attended a Bible study at the Church of the Nazarene. I was surprised to hear that all the people sang the songs in Spanish. I found this really effective as I really thought about the words I was singing! We focused on the book of Exodus.

Once a month the Church get together and pray for the area of Brampton by holding a Breakfast Morning. Each member of the church brings an item to share. It was the biggest breakfast I have ever eaten with a variety of fruit, toast, croissants, cheese and cinnamon rolls! I thought this was a brilliant idea which I think would work well in my church.

The Vacation Bible School started on the 8th July. I was really excited but very nervous as I was doing the Bible Story and memory verse. It turned out that so many children came I had to do the story three times a day! We had nearly one hundred children. By doing VBS I saw how God answered my prayers, because I didn't think I would be able to remember the Bible story in detail, but the story was on Paul's missionary journeys which I had studied in RE. Also I didn't know why God was telling me to keep on History of Art for A Level but VBS was themed on Athens and all of the Temples there, and the children in Canada were curious about it and I could tell them all about them! Finally, I could not believe how little the children knew about God and Christianity at the start of VBS and then I could not get over how much knowledge they took in throughout the five days. It was amazing.

To finish off Vacation Bible School I decided to have a quiz - boys v girls. The children were excited as they knew I would have sweets as prizes.

For the quiz, I found a little house with loads of doors on it. I decided to put points inside each door and sweets. It was funny as the boys were winning and then on the last question the girls opened a door with 50 points and won!

The last day of VBS was sad as I knew I would probably never see these children again. So they decided to get my autograph!

To finish off VBS there was a Barbeque. All of the leaders were there and we played games. I have never had so much fun. We played consequences, Mafia and Pyramids.

My trip to Canada was a worthwhile and memorable experience. I loved working with the Church of the Nazarene and the children from the area. I could not believe how God had answered all of my prayers and how well the children responded to my teaching. I would love to do something like this again in the future as I have gained so much spiritually from it. Thank you so much to the Diocesan Board of Mission for their donation towards my trip and for all your prayers. They were really helpful!

Young Adults Retreat Weekend

A sleepy west of Ireland town seemed the ideal place to arrange a quiet retreat weekend for young adults. But as we arrived it was quite clear that Ballybofey was far from a backwater. Evening traffic had created a city-like back log of traffic and the streets were full of shoppers and people in a festive spirit. Could it really be six weeks to Christmas.

Alain Emerson

However true to their nature the young adults, all 54 of them, embraced the setting and made the most of what was happening. The cosy fire in the hotel reception, the Johnny Cash Tribute band, the 300 wedding party and of course McElhinney's!

But these were only incidentals. We had gathered to go deeper in our faith together. To be challenged and inspired and that truly was the outcome. Our speaker for the weekend was Alain Emerson the former Crusader's footballer and now church leader. As we gathered for our first session on the Friday evening Alain explain the "Way of Grace". He spoke about God's unconditional love for us and His purposes in our lives. How He seeks to not only "bring us out of Egypt but also, as with the children of Israel, bring Egypt out of us!" Alain encouraged us to journey through the weekend to discover what God's plan was for us and to begin living it.

Breakfast the following morning was welcome after falling asleep to the strains of yet another Johnny Cash ballad from the function room below. This was not a prayer and fasting weekend but one designed to allow time for rest, relaxation and reflection. Alain's second section, "The Way of Intention", allowed us to see the importance of intentionality in our lives. God is calling us on a journey with Him which begins by our deciding to give time and space for him to speak to us. Time to spend alone with Him to hear His voice. Time to allow Him to speak into our lives and encourage and challenge us. This will require a disciplined approach, as without an intention it will always remain an unfulfilled hope. The morning ended with time for us all to "get away" to a place with God and take time to reflect on the call for time alone with our Lord in the busyness of our lives. This message proved to be a very apt for us all as work and life so often makes heavy demands on us and it is too easy to neglect our relationship with Christ. This was a weekend with the perfect balance. Time to be reinvigorated spiritually, to worship and fellowship together with Alain. Making new friends. Walk in the woods, or searching the shops together. Stopping for tea and coffee and hearing each other's stories. We departed excited and refreshed; eager for our next meeting and resolved to make time more often for the grace of God in our lives.

Jesus Presented in the Temple

(Luke chapter 2 verses 22-40)

Mary and Joseph went to Jerusalem and took baby Jesus to the temple to say 'thank you' to God. When they were in the temple they met a man called Simeon. Simeon was a good man who loved God. God had told Simeon that before he would die, he would see Christ. Simeon took the baby Jesus in his arms and he felt really happy. Simeon realised that this was a very special baby - this baby was Christ, the Son of God - this baby had come to give people a way back to God. Simeon was so happy and he praised God for sending Jesus. Also in the temple that day was an old lady called Anna. She too was very happy. She thanked God and told the people there about Jesus.

6. A lady called _____ was also in the temple that day

Look at the 'ladder' in your grid. What was the name of the man who realised that the baby Jesus was God's son and that he had come to be the Saviour? _____

WHAT MAKES YOU HAPPY?

Simeon was one of the few people who understood why God had sent His Son to earth. Sadly, even today, many people still do not really understand why Jesus came.

Meeting Jesus made Simeon really happy and he praised God. Sometimes in church we sing the words Simeon used when he saw Jesus (we do this when we sing the canticle called Nunc Dimittis).

We have lots of hymns and songs we use in church. Use this space to write out a verse of one of your favourites - or draw some of the things that make you happy.

Count Your Blessings

As Lent approaches our thoughts often turn to what we can give up. However Lent should also be a time to reflect, pray and be thankful for the goodness of God. 'Count Your Blessings' is Christian Aid's Lent resource which contains daily reflections to help inspire people as they give thanks for God's blessings in their lives.

This year 'Count Your Blessings' focuses on the story of Wahid Fatir Mohammed Babakr and his family, living in Zanan Bchuk. Like much of northern Iraq, this village has lived through decades of conflict. After fleeing to safety during Saddam Hussein's violent campaign against the Kurdish people, Wahid returned to find the devastation to be so great he couldn't even identify his own home. Now, with the help of Christian Aid partner REACH, the village has been transformed. Through the rebuilding of homes and the building of a new reservoir, tarmac road and greenhouses, Wahid and the Zanan Bchuk community have been able to create new and better lives for themselves. "Five years ago this place was just buildings. There wasn't grass, no green, no trees" Wahid explains. "You can see the difference in our lives now. It is unimaginable."

More of Wahid's story can be read in the 'Count Your Blessings' leaflet and, by joining us on this journey, you can help bring an end to poverty for people like Wahid and his family. Starting on Ash Wednesday, 'Count Your Blessings' leads you through 40 thought-provoking reflections, uplifting stories and practical actions which can be taken in solidarity with the world's poorest people. A special version is also available for children and for those aged 16-25.

Christian Aid is also launching a 'Count Your Blessings' app. Available from Google Play or the Apple Store, the app delivers these daily reflections, along with inspirational photographs, straight to your smart phone, iPad or tablet. More information about these, and Christian Aid's other Lent resources, is available by contacting Christian Aid Ireland on 028 9064 8133 (NI) or 01 611 0801 (ROI) or by visiting www.christianaid.ie/lent

So this year, rather than giving up treats for Lent, why not also think about what you can give?

God's Big Family

As part of CMS Ireland's 200th Anniversary, the 2014 Annual Project aims to support all of our Global Partners, as we celebrate and work together as part of God's Big Family.

Churches' Community Work Alliance Rural Programme is up and running!

Churches' Community Work Alliance (CCWA) and Rural Community Network (RCN) are pleased to announce a new support programme to promote and enhance good community work in churches and faith based organisations across rural Northern Ireland.

Is your church aware of increasing social needs in your area as individuals and families struggle to cope with the pressures of everyday life? Are you interested in looking at practical ways in which your church may be able to further engage with and support local people by helping to tackle issues of poverty and disadvantage? Churches and faith based organisations have a central role to play in promoting social inclusion, equality and cohesion on their doorsteps, especially in rural areas where need is often hidden and churches remain at the core of community life. Faith based organisations have significant expertise in dealing with local issues as and when they arise. Whilst each area will have differing needs and discussions, actions may include linking into existing community services, supporting food banks and dealing with debt, social contact for the elderly and vulnerable etc.

The programme will also be promoting opportunities which arise within CCWA such as access to Flourish, a churches initiative on suicide and within RCN, a range of seminars and events, supporting rural community organisations.

Anne Donnelly and Neville Armstrong have recently taken up positions as Training and Development Officers within the programme and they are based in the offices of RCN in Cookstown.

The new programme will develop awareness, relationships and partnerships between Churches, faith based organisations, government and other community voluntary sectors. A priority will be to support the involvement of churches and faith based volunteers in social action projects which aim to alleviate poverty and improve the quality of life for people from all sections of the community living in disadvantaged rural areas. This programme will also provide a platform to bring those experiences, as well as, new innovative solutions to emerging local poverty issues to the relevant policy makers.

The programme has been funded by Department of Agriculture and Rural Development via the Department of Social Development.

For further information about this programme contact Anne or Neville on 02886766670 or email anne.donnelly@ccwa-ni.org.uk or neville.armstrong@ccwa-ni.org.uk

New Chapter for Northern Ireland's Charities

Compulsory charity registration began on 16th December 2013 in Northern Ireland for the first time. The move will see the Charity Commission, the independent regulator of charities, begin the process of registering the thousands of charitable organisations that are currently operating in Northern Ireland.

It also marks the opening of the Commission's new register of charities, the first official list of registered charities in Northern Ireland – a directory which will continue to grow as registration is rolled out over coming years.

The Commission's new, online registration system is now live and the first tranche of charitable organisations has been called forward by the Commission to apply for registration. Frances McCandless, Chief Executive at the Commission, added: 'I would urge any charities out there, who are perhaps a little daunted by the registration process, not to worry. Registration for charities should be a straightforward process as the information required is information that charities should be keeping anyway.' You can find out more information on registration, including checking the Commission's registration lists, at www.charitycommissionni.org.uk.

Please remember in your prayers all who are sick, whether in hospital, nursing homes or recovering at home.

On the 30th November and 1st December St Mark's Church Aghadrumsee was awash with colour as they held a Christmas Tree Festival. The organisers would like to thank all who worked so hard to make it such a success before, during and after the event. A special thank you must go to the Leary Family of Skea Flowers for their assistance and to the Ferguson Family for leading the music. The Ladies Guild also express thanks to their members and to all who decorated trees and helped in any way.

We will be having a study group again this year at The Rectory. It will take place on the second, third, and fourth Mondays of February and March. We will be looking at 'Grace' and helped to do so by Max Lucado who says "We talk as though we understand the term. The bank gives us a "grace" period. The seedy politician falls from "grace." Musicians speak of a "grace" note. We describe an actress as "gracious," a dancer as "graceful." We use the word for hospitals, baby girls, kings, and pre-meal prayers. We talk as though we know what "grace" means. But do we really understand it?

Have we settled for wimpy grace? It politely occupies a phrase in a hymn, fits nicely on a church sign. Never causes trouble or demands a response." Max Lucado asks a deeper question: "Have you been changed by grace? Shaped by grace? Strengthened by grace? Emboldened by grace? Softened by grace? Snatched by the nape of your neck and shaken to your senses by grace? Grace is the voice that calls us to change and then gives us the power to pull it off."

Clogh Mothers' Union began 2014 with a quiz night on 6th January, their next meeting will be on 3rd February when the speaker will be the Revd Rob Clements Curate Assistant of Enniskillen Parish. Please make a note in your diary for our Speaker's night on 3rd April when we will be welcoming Joanne Dobson to speak to us about organ donation.

A concert will be held in Aghadrumsee Orange Hall on Friday 14th February, when we are looking forward to having 'Wee Tom' entertain us.

Subscribers to this Magazine are reminded that their subscription is now due.

Congratulations to Ronald and Sarah Jane Egerton on the birth of their fourth child, a daughter. Our best wishes and prayers go to them at this special time.

Over the past couple of months we have been delighted to have the joy of a number of baptisms in our group. William Keith son of Keith and Andrea Nelson was baptised in Clogh Church, Jamie Joseph son of Gary and Vanessa McVitty and Eliza Faith daughter of Adrian and Kim Forster were baptised in Aghadrumsee Church. We are delighted to welcome William, Jamie and Eliza into the church family and uphold them and their parents in our prayers.

We extend our sympathy to the McCartney family on the death of their brother Herbie in England and to Valerie Forster on the death of her aunt Mrs Moore.

Dear friends,

Have you ever wondered what it was like when the first generation of Christians began to die out? The first disciples had walked and talked with the Lord Jesus. But they were beginning to die, mostly by martyrdom. The next generation hadn't met Jesus during the days of his life on earth; they depended on the apostles' teaching. So what do you do when the apostles are dying?

It's this very circumstance that prompts Peter's second letter. He knows that his own death is imminent (1:14), so he writes to the Christians who will come after him. What can they depend on? What should they hold on to? Peter's resounding and repeated answer is to hold on to God's word as the means to growth in the 'grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.' (3:18)

God has granted us 'his precious and very great promises' (1:4) which assure us of sins forgiven, our entrance into the eternal kingdom, and spur us on in the path of sanctification - adding to our faith virtue, knowledge, self-control, steadfastness, godliness, brotherly affection and love. (1:5-7).

Peter is making sure that these promises are recorded and remembered after he has put off his body (presumably through Mark's Gospel), because Peter was an eye-witness and an ear-witness of the events of the Transfiguration: 'This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased.' (1:17) Yet we have something more sure - the prophetic word, spoken by men carried along by the Spirit (1:19-21).

Just as in the Old Testament there were false prophets alongside the true, so the ongoing life of the church will have false teachers exploiting and corrupting. But don't worry - Peter reminds his readers of how in the Old Testament God was able to rescue his people while punishing the unrighteous - Noah and Lot as prime examples. (2:4-10)

Holding to God's word (by remembering the predictions of the prophets and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour 3:2) through the apostles will help us answer the scoffers who ask what has happened to the promised return of Jesus. (3:4) God made the world by a word, the same word that now reserves the heavens and earth for judgement and destruction. But we shouldn't be fooled into thinking that God is slow to fulfill his promise - that supposed slowness is actually patience, in giving opportunity for repentance, but the day of the Lord will come, suddenly, unexpectedly.

Even as the earth is destroyed by fire, we have the promise of new heavens and new earth - where righteousness dwells. Holding on to this promise spurs us on to be ready for the new world - just as Paul in writing the scriptures has urged us.

From start to finish and beyond, God's precious and very great promises give us everything we need for life and godliness - forgiveness, hope, clarity, witness to the person and work of Jesus, safety in the midst of false teaching, and the certainty of our eternal future with Christ. It's all in God's word, written for us, so keep reading, and keep going, and growing.

Yours in Christ,

Gary

St Colman's Clontibret

Celebrating the Birth of our Saviour

The congregation were treated to an excellent drama and musical interpretation of the real Christmas story by the 43 children from Clontibret National School who delivered their lines and managed to take their places in the production without any prompting. The performance flowed in sequence as the drama unfolded for over 20 minutes. The event was a great credit to everyone concerned and to the teachers Mrs Julie Crawford and Mrs Joy Gilmour. The children's performance was the highlight of the carol service for which the church was packed. We were delighted to have Sharon Lancashire along to play the organ which we appreciate so much having to rely on CD's each Sunday. Walter Pringle with his usual good wit added to the service by performing the role of the inn keeper and putting on record how due to pressure on his limited accommodation which was packed to overflowing with people lying on the floors the only help that he could offer Joseph and his heavily pregnant wife Mary was the corner of his stable and how he had procured the services of the local midwife and his wife to assist in the delivery. After the service we all adjourned to the Church hall for light refreshment which everyone enjoyed. This was the first of the carol services in our group and we look forward to sharing the events in our sister churches.

Condolences

The death occurred on 28th December in Cavan General Hospital of William Robert Falls following a period of illness. Robert was born in 1942 and was the eldest son of the late David and Aileen Falls of Shanmullagh, Clontibret. Robert spent all his life on the family farm. He was known as a man of quiet disposition, who enjoyed the outdoor chores of farming and had a great love for animals. In his youth he was a keen member of the local Scotch Corner air gun club in which he won a number of trophies.

He was predeceased by his brother Wesley in 2001. There was a large attendance at the funeral service which took place on 30th December 2013 in St Colman's Parish Church. The service was conducted by the Revd Margaret Pringle assisted by her husband Walter Pringle. In his address, Walter spoke about Robert's life of hard work, honesty, patience and being a good neighbour. We extend our sympathy to his four sisters, Yvonne Donaldson, Eileen Gillanders, Hilda Montgomery and Dorothy Carleton and all the family circle.

Congratulations

We were delighted to hear that Alison and Nigel Donaldson have been blessed with the birth of their third son Harry John. Harry arrived on Friday, 3rd January weighing 8lb 7oz. Harry's brothers are Thomas and Callum.

We would take the opportunity to wish all our friends throughout the church family a Very Healthy and Happy New Year. God Bless You All.

Christ Church Ballybay

Baptism

On 17th November we welcomed into our Church Community baby Aloise Leonard, who was baptized by Revd McCollum. In spite of a power outage in the town 10 minutes before proceedings the service was carried out very professionally by Revd McCollum in candlelight. His sermon was most appropriate when he discussed coming from darkness into light. We pray that Aloise will grow with us.

Our Church hosted the Community Carol Service on Wednesday 18th December at 8pm. To prepare for this each family took a candle and decorated it with greenery and flowers and returned it on Sunday to church, some were placed on the windows and some on the tables. It was lovely to see all the different arrangements. The children had a wonderful time decorating the Christmas Tree and the church looked very well. Despite the stormy evening the service was well attended and we are very grateful to Mr Walter Pringle for conducting the service and to Revd Laurence Flynn PP for preparing and producing the Order of Service and conducting the Community Choir. We are also very appreciative of George Wallace who always donates mince pies and cake for the tea after the service which was very welcome and enjoyed by all. Our Christmas Eve Communion Service was at 9.30pm and was conducted by Revd McCollum and the organ was played by Alannah Crawford.

We thank Walter for his ministry, advice and help to us in this time of vacancy and to all the Clergy who travel to us once a month to ensure that we receive communion. We wish them and their families a Very Happy and Peaceful 2014. We would also like to wish all the housebound members of our congregation a very Happy and Healthy 2014.

St Maeldoid's Mucknoe, Castleblayney

Happy New Year to All

Thanks: We would like to express our grateful thanks to Walter Pringle and Revd C. McCollum for their continued dedication to us over the past 12 months. Thanks to Revd Margaret and Walter Pringle for their Christmas Communions to the housebound.

We, like everyone else in the Parishes had a busy December. It all started on the 11th December when the Ladies of the Mothers Union joined Castleblayney PW for "Christmas with Cantilena" in the Market House theatre in Armagh. A lovely evening was had by all, the mulled wine and mince pies were a treat!

On 18th December we had a Community Carol Service in St Maeldoid's. We thank all the Readers especially those from neighbouring Churches who all read so well. We thank Jacqueline Prentice and her Mum for travelling to sing two very nice Christmas pieces. Thanks to Charlotte from First Castleblayney and members of the choir for coming to help us with the singing. A well deserved cup of tea along with warm mince pies and other Christmas goodies were served by the ladies and the 'odd' gentleman! The collection on this occasion went to the Castleblayney Cancer Society.

Then on Saturday afternoon, 19th December we had the usual Children's Christmas party when the long awaited Father Christmas made a guest appearance bringing with him lots of goodies.

On Sunday 22nd, there was a Special Carol Service organized by Walter Pringle, in St Mary's Care Hospital. Thanks again to all those who came and helped make the day such a happy and joyful occasion. The room was packed to capacity. Thanks to the dedicated staff of St Marys for their care and attention to those in their care. Thanks to Paula the Liaison Officer who decorated the room so lovely.

Christmas Morning: It was very nice to see so many people at Church for this special day; we were especially delighted to see Mr Eddie Robinson and his family. A small gift was presented to Revd C. McCollum.

Farewell: We wish our neighbouring Presbyterian Minister, Revd C and Mrs R. Irwin and Nathan best wishes as they retire from First Castleblayney and Frankford Churches. We appreciated their tremendous support to us on many special occasions within the Church. Also, his ministry and friendliness to the elderly in St Mary's Hospital will be sincerely missed. A presentation evening was arranged for Friday 17th January to which we are all invited.

Congratulations to Joan and Barry on the birth of their baby son, Joseph.

Deepest Sympathy is extended to all those who lost a loved one over the Christmas period, especially to the Falls family in Clontibret for the sad passing of Mr Robert Falls.

Diary: Women's World Day of Prayer, Friday 7th March. Venue to be decided.

Sunday Services

Sunday 2nd February The Presentation of Christ in the temple - Carrickmacross 10.30am HC; Magheraclone 11.45am MP; Ardragh 1.00pm HC.

Sunday 9th February The Fourth Sunday before Lent – Carrickmacross 10.30am MP; Magheraclone 11.45am HC.

Sunday 16th February The Third Sunday before Lent – Carrickmacross 10.30am MP; Magheraclone 11.45am MP; Ardragh 1.00pm MP.

Sunday 23rd February The Second Sunday before Lent - Carrickmacross 10.30am MP; Magheraclone 11.45am MP.

Since a new comer to the group at the beginning of December, I was delighted on my arrival on the first Sunday in Advent to discover that the children of the Sunday school in Carrickmacross had prepared a beautiful Advent wreath. Sunday by Sunday at the outset of the services the children lit the candles and we looked at the relevant symbols of the candles and their colours.

It was with a great sense of welcome that there were so many parishioners present on my first Sunday in all three churches. Perhaps it was to see the “new comer on the block”. Time will tell!

My thanks to all who decorated the churches for Christmas and those who participated in the Carol services. Thanks also to those who Sunday by Sunday over the past year have been working in the background keeping the Churches looking well and functional, particularly during the vacancy.

We celebrated Christmas Eve with a joint service of Holy Communion in Magheraclone. Sadly the event was overshadowed with the sudden death of a parishioner.

The Christmas Day joint service was held in Carrickmacross, while the Sunday school party took place on 8th December.

Holy Baptism

The infants of Matthew and Jacqueline Norris and Graham and Catherine Howell were baptised in St Finbarre’s Parish church. We wish both families every blessing in the future.

Jesus said “Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he/she shall not enter therein. And he took them up in his arms put his hands upon them, and blessed them” Mark 10:13

Condolences

We extend our sympathy and prayers to the family of Henri Babington whose funeral took place in St. Molua’s, Magheraclone on 28th December.

Henri had been ill for a short time, but his sudden passing came as a tremendous shock to his family and the surrounding area. The massive attendance at the funeral was an indication of how well he was respected as a father, family member and a neighbour.

Women’s World Day of Prayer

On Friday 7th March, it is the turn of St. Finbarre’s church to host the annual service. The theme this year is “Streams in the Desert” by the women of Egypt.

Roxanne and Omya

This beautifully written and illustrated story by Lorna Lewis in Carrickmacross, who is a very creative and imaginative 16 year old, is about a young bird and her family who live in a tall tree in Denwood Forest with a lot of other animals. It is suitable for 6-8 year olds and it is for sale in Keegan’s Newsagent in Carrickmacross and from the author herself at a very reasonable price of €6.

This function, on Friday 27th December, was arranged on behalf of the Parish by Caroline Scott and Eveline Clements; and what an enjoyable occasion it turned out to be! With games and music organised by "BB Socials" it really was a fun night for all the family. Commencing at 7pm, parishioners and friends with ages ranging from six months to almost eighty years enjoyed taking part in or watching others take part in challenging and energetic games. We had a welcome opportunity to catch up with Henry and Helen Blair and their "boys" (how they have grown!!) and with June and Jonathan Graham and their children. Following the games, the "Light Refreshments" which were to be served would be more properly described as a feast. We thank Caroline and Eveline, and all who helped to make this a memorable event.

Obituaries

Desmond Little

Dessie was baptised in Mullaghduin Church and having chosen his wife, Gladys Elliott, from his home parish, they were married in August 1970 in Mullaghduin Church. Dessie was a regular volunteer with the team who keep Mullaghduin Churchyard neat and tidy throughout the year. Sadly, Gladys died in September 2011 following a short illness. Life was never the same again for Dessie without his beloved wife, and following a time of ill health he died peacefully in the South West Acute Hospital on Saturday 7th December. The Church was filled to capacity for Dessie's Service of Thanksgiving on 9th December. We extend sympathy to Lorraine and her husband Robert, to Keith and his wife Arlene, and their daughter Emma, and to all who mourn Dessie's death.

Tommy Johnston

One of Cleenish Parish's oldest residents, Tommy Johnston, Derryhowlaght, passed away peacefully in the South West Hospital on Saturday evening 21st December. Born on 16th May 1922, and after leaving Mullanaveigh School, Tommy moved a short distance from his childhood home to a nearby farm where he commenced farming with a two cow byre. He gradually built up the family farm, mainly involving milk cows, which in later life he handed over to his son Norman. Tommy's wife Brenda passed away five years before him, and he was also predeceased by his brothers Willie, Henry and Frank. After Brenda's death he remained in the family home with his youngest son John. Prior to going into Hospital on 1st February, he was cared for on a daily basis by his daughter Susan with whom he was able to reside for a short period. As well as an active farmer Tommy joined the Home Guard during the war years, before transferring into the Ulster Special Constabulary. In later life he enjoyed playing and watching indoor bowls. He was also a lifelong member of Granshagh LOL 1709.

His Funeral Service conducted by the Rector took place on Christmas eve in Cleenish Church, which was filled to capacity, the organist was Joan Brownlee. The ladies of the Parish served tea to all in the Parish Hall after the Service.

To his sons, Leslie, Noel, Norman, John, and daughters Susan & Caroline and the entire family circle, we express our deepest sympathy.

Olive Bridle

Our Rector's mother, Mrs Olive Bridle passed away peacefully in the Tilery Nursing Home, on the afternoon of Wednesday 1st January. Having previously resided at Knocklofty Park, Belfast, the couple moved to Fermanagh to be nearer their only son. Widowed by the death of her husband Eric, she resided in The Rectory, before being admitted to the Nursing Home. Her funeral Service which was well attended took place in Cleenish Church, on Monday morning 6th January, followed by cremation in Belfast. During the Service which was conducted by Revd Ivan Ruiters, grandson Jonathan paid tribute to his grandmother a former School Teacher. Bishop John give the blessing at the end of the Service, and Joan Brownlee played the organ. The ladies from Cleenish & Mullaghduin served tea to all in the Parish Hall.

Both Parishes send their sincere sympathy to Revd Geoff, Rosita, and grandsons Jonathan, Christopher, & Adrian, to Olive's sisters and the wider family circle.

Rowena conducted both morning services on Sunday 5th January

Diocesan Advent Carol Service

The Diocesan Advent Carol Service was held in a candle-lit Cathedral on 1st December. Music was provided by Mr Glenn Moore at the organ and by the choirs of St Macartan's Cathedral Clogher, St Mark's Augher, St Mark's Newtownsaville, Rossorry Parish Church, the Priory Church Killadeas, the Donagh Group of Parishes and St Macartin's Cathedral Enniskillen. The service included the commissioning of six Diocesan Pastoral Assistants by Bishop John McDowell. Each of the DPAs read a lesson. Among those commissioned was Mrs Ann Irwin from Clogher Cathedral Parish. Congratulations to Ann on the completion of her training and her commissioning. The service also marked the 275th anniversary of the granting of the seal of the Dean and Chapter of Clogher in 1738.

Community Carol Service

This service, which has become an annual event in recent years, was held on 5th December and incorporated the switching on of the Christmas lights in the village. Choirs from local schools and youth groups delighted the large congregation with their singing and representatives of various community organisations read the lessons. Mrs Diane Whitaker was at the organ. Canon Noel Regan led the service and Father Noel McGahan, Parish Priest, took part. The Cathedral was beautifully decorated for the occasion by Miss Shirley Fannin. A collection was taken up in aid of Cancer Focus.

Christmas

On 13th December the Cathedral was the venue for a musical evening in aid of Riding for the Disabled and on 19th December St Mark's in Augher hosted Augher Primary School's Carol Service, which was very well attended. Carol services were held in each of the churches on 22nd December. A party from the group of parishes attended "A Winter's Tale" in St Salvator's Church, Donagh on 23rd December. A very enjoyable event was followed by mulled wine and mince pies at Castle Leslie. Christmas Eve services ended with a midnight service in the Cathedral and on Christmas morning the Bishop was the celebrant and preacher at Holy Communion.

In the run up to Christmas Sunday School parties were held in each of the parishes and Holy Communion was celebrated in St Macartan's Nursing and Residential Home.

Mothers' Union Notes

After several years of valuable leadership of St Macartan's Mothers' Union, Mrs Margaret McCloughlin has stepped down and Mrs Iris Moffitt has taken on the role of Branch Leader. The next meeting will be at 8pm on Wednesday 19th February in the Parish Hall, Clogher.

Black Santa Annual Sit out

Canon Noel's sit out on 21st December was very successful, raising almost £1,900 for Horizon West Children's Hospice. A very big thank you to all those from the group of parishes and community for their support and generosity.

New Year Bells

The Cathedral bells heralded the New Year as has been the custom since 1877. Mr John Hull the Cathedral verger sounded the joy bells to welcome 2014 just after midnight on the last day of the old year. The tradition was begun in 1877 by the rector, the Revd Dr Bailey, who was a distinguished musician and hymn writer. The sexton, Andrew McClelland and then his son George carried on the practice for over 50 years. In more recent years Mr Walter Taggart and now Mr John Hull have faithfully maintained the tradition.

Lenten talks

The Lenten talks will take place on Thursdays in Lent, commencing on Thursday the 13th of March at 8.00pm in the Cassandra Hand Centre. The theme this year is: 'hold fast to the mystery of faith' – exploring faith through the words of worship. This year our focus for Lent is on the faith that lies behind some of the most familiar and well-known words we say as part of our worship. These memorable phrases are common to many Churches and denominations and have become part of our identity as Christians. Our speakers this year will explore what these phrases mean, what insights they reveal about God and the consequences for our daily lives as disciples.

We much look forward to welcome parishioners as well as friends from the wider Diocesan family. Light refreshments served. Please contact the rector for a programme.

Confirmation

The confirmation on Sunday the 12th January in St Laebhan's Church, Killeevan, was a wonderful occasion. Eight candidates were confirmed. Please pray for Geoffrey, Harry, Stephen, Natasha, Jason, Joshua, Jamie and Aaron as they continue as disciples of Christ.

We were all greatly encouraged by Bishop John's sermon based on David and Goliath and the importance for us to wear our own clothes, and not someone else's. Or in other words, be proud of who you are and don't try to be someone else. The bishop also reminded us that we all are called to serve God in the parishes where we are and to do it according to our gifts. The music was led by the choir and organist Miss Averil Crowe. After the service the parish had organised cake and tea for candidates, supporters and parishioners.

Multidenominational Memorial Service for Victims of Conflict

In January, Largey College together with the Revd Stanley Stewart, Fr Dick Mohan and Canon Helene Steed organised a memorial service to mark World Holocaust Day and at the same time remember victims of conflicts worldwide, past and present. At the service, we also recognised those who lost their lives as a result of the Troubles. The students had prepared the service and participated by reading poems and reflections. Student Michael Lawson sang, as did the school choir and also Melanie McCabe (from x-factor). The memorial service was an occasion 'for us to learn from the past, so that we can make a better tomorrow' said student Nicole Mullan.

It was a poignant occasion, attended by students from Largey College, primary schools in the area, local town councillors and local TDs.

Clones Christmas Fayre

Also present were William Sayers, Everett Irons and Joanne Irons who were part of the mission group.

May I (the Rector) take this opportunity to wish everyone a Happy New Year.

A Reflection on Christmas 2013 – Reason for the Season

With each passing year the kick-off to the Christmas holiday season seems more like a market-tested, pre-packaged gift as many businesses and retailers keep their shops open and their minds closed to anything other than squeezing a little more profit out of embattled consumers. There is a barrage of holiday sales, gift ideas and plastic do-dos perhaps made by wage slaves in Asia. It is an understanding of Christmas that is full of emptiness and which peddles religious tradition as a mere product.

This is the so-called Prosperity Gospel, a money changing, profit making and strangely competitive cultural holiday which is diametrically opposed to the real reason for the season. So often the marketing wrings out the religious teachings and replaces them with the corrosive effects of materialism. But what about the religious, ethical and anti-materialistic themes associated with Jesus, HIS LIFE and HIS GOSPEL? What about the admonitions against hoarding wealth and worshipping mammon?

There is clearly a tension and hypocrisy in linking the man who gave the Sermon on the Mount with a frantic feeding frenzy and a troubling, often desperate consumer competition of greed and jealousy that sees more and more people divorcing religion and ethics from the holiday.

Christmas can never be regarded as a market opportunity to be exploited. The real spirit and meaning of Christmas is to be found in a meaningful celebration of the birth of one of the great champions of the poor and weak. It is a time for humble reflection, effusive charity and financial modesty. Could Jesus, be any less of a fit for Christmas 2013? Remember the words of the song, 'HE IS THE REASON FOR THE SEASON'.

Devenish and Boho Mothers' Union

On Tuesday 19th October our guest speaker was Mr. Gordon Deazley from Fields of Life. Gordon showed some very interesting slides of his trip to Uganda and outlined the great work and practical help carried out by Fields of Life throughout the world.

We were delighted to have a large attendance for our Visitor's night which was held on 19th November when our guest speakers were Brian and May Gault. Brian gave a very moving talk on his childhood. He is one of 480 survivors of the miracle drug Thalidomide. His book 'Look No Hands' is sold to raise funds to provide support and raise awareness of the plight of children in Brazil who are still being born with Thalidomide related disabilities. Brian and May work tirelessly travelling to countries all over the world.

We were encouraged on the night by their message of hope and inspiration.

The evening concluded with supper.

Every Sunday 11.30am
(First Sunday of the month 9.00am Holy Communion)

February is often described as the month of love because there is one day in the middle that is celebrated by many to express their love. It's a day that either you make a fuss of or you allow it to pass by as if unnoticed.

In the gospel of John Chapter 10 and verse 11-13 Jesus says "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd sacrifices his life for the sheep. A hired hand will run when he sees a wolf coming. He will abandon the sheep because they don't belong to him and he isn't their shepherd. And so the wolf attacks them and scatters the flock. The hired hand runs away because he's working only for the money and doesn't really care about the sheep.

His love for you will never stop – but are you allowing it to simply pass by unnoticed?

Every Blessing
James

Christmas Events

There were many events to celebrate the Christmas season. From dinners to parties, from prayer times to services, we have been blessed by the time we spent together. Thank you to all who made each and every part of this possible.

Regular Organisations and Events

We have many organizations and events that run on a regular basis to suit a wide range of ages and interests. Some of these happen on a weekly basis and others on a monthly cycle – CLB, GFS, Junior Sunday School, Ignite, Mother Union, Bowls Club, Prayer meetings/events, Study groups as well as many more which will be detailed below. We would appreciate your prayers and if you feel that you might like to join in then please do find out more details about them.

Marriage Matters

I read a great quote by Nicky Gumbel this morning - A great relationship doesn't happen because of the love you had in the beginning, but how well you continue building love until the end.

Often the church is good at the actual wedding ceremony, sometimes good at the preparation beforehand yet we then neglect to invest in the marriages that have begun.

Holy Trinity Dromore is having an informal evening on Sunday 2 February at 8.00pm. This evening will be hosted by Shirley and me and the keynote speakers will be Bishop Ken and Helen Clarke. This couple has many years of practical experience helping other couples grow in their relationships.

What they have to say is inspirational and life changing. I have facilitated this kind of event with them before and relationships that where good became fantastic, marriages that were on the rocks where restored and love that had grown dim over many years was reignited. Often we perceive that we only need to attend these kinds of events when something has gone wrong. Yet this is exactly the kind of evening that will build the tools in your marriage to ensure that the relationship with your spouse continues to flourish and grow.

Can't Cook Won't Cook

The Mothers Union is hosting an evening on Wed 19 February at 8.00pm called Can't Cook Won't Cook. The Chef for the evening is Shirley Kerr and the contestants are Derek Thornton and Revd James. Any donations will assist the Fields of Life Team from the parish.

Spinsters are Sly

The Dromore Players are once again in action in a four act comedy called 'Spinsters are Sly.' The Play is taking place over three nights Wed 26th, Thurs 27th, Fri 28th February starting at 8.00pm each evening in Dromore Orange Hall. Tickets are £6 and can be purchased from James on 82898246 or Gordon on 82898005. All proceeds are for Fields of Life.

Annual Guest Tea

Tuesday 5th March at 8.00pm in Dromore Orange Hall – come along for a night filled with an interesting and varied line up of artists.

Ash Wednesday Service

As two months have passed since the previous Magazine there are quite a number of events to mention.

Christmas Communion

The Christmas Eve Communion Service was held in Drumkeeran at 10.00 pm and the Christmas Day Communion in Muckross at 10.00 am. There was a good attendance at both services. The plate collection for the Bishops' Appeal for World Hunger amounted to over £550. Thanks to all who contributed. In the period leading up to Christmas I had the opportunity of having 'home communion' with house bound parishioners and visiting those from the group of parishes in Nursing Homes and Care Homes.

Carol Services

Carol Services were held as follows. Dernasesk on the 8th December. Templecarne and Drumkeeran on the morning of the 15th. Muckross on 22nd. Thanks to organisers, readers, organists and all who participated. And thanks to those who added the Christmas decorations in each of the three churches, giving a Christmas feel.

Children's Service

A Christmas Sunday School Service was held in Drumkeeran on 8th December, followed by lunch in the Parochial Hall. Children from all three parishes in the group took part. And they did exceptionally well. Thanks to the Sunday School teachers from the three parishes. Thanks to Mandy Aiken who did most of the organising of the service. Thanks to the ladies who prepared and served lunch in the Hall afterwards. And thanks to Santa who came to the Hall with his bag of gifts.

Baptism

During the Sunday School Service in Drumkeeran on 8th December Martha Ivy Jane, daughter of Mark and Janice Thompson, 737 Boa Island Road, Kesh, was baptised. It was good to welcome family members from different places for the baptism and to renew friendship. We pray that God's blessing will be with Martha, with her parents and godparents and with all who will have the care of her in the years ahead.

On Sunday 22nd December, Riley William, son of Paul and Judith Irons was baptised in Drumkeeran. The family now live in South Africa. May God be with Riley, with his brother and his parents in the years ahead.

Sympathy

Mrs Peggy Brogden, formerly of 5 Crevenish Park, Kesh, who had been in the Ashbrook Nursing Home for some time, died on 17th December and after the funeral service in Drumkeeran Church was laid to rest in the adjoining graveyard on 20th. Peggy had grown up in the sextons house beside the church. In her late teens she went to work in England, married John Brogden and there remained until in retirement they came back to live in Kesh. John and Peggy were faithful supporters of the church and its ministry. To their son Graham we extend our sympathy.

Templecarne Concert

I am delighted to report that the Concert in November raised well over £2,000. Well done to all, particularly to David and Hilda Johnston who organise the event year by year. And thanks to the artists, most of whom provided their services free. The newly refurbished Methodist Hall added to the pleasantness of the evening's entertainment.

Shoebox Appeal

Each year Mrs Irene Boyd makes a magnificent effort with the Shoebox Appeal, sending gifts to children in need. Thanks to all who help Irene with this project, and to all who contribute to the appeal from within the group of parishes and beyond. And thank you to the great number of men who came along on December 7th for the loading of the container truck, over 7,000 boxes. In this part of the world, despite the gloomy forecasts, we all live comfortably. This practical reaching out to the less fortunate is to be warmly commended. As a parish we feel honoured to be associated with the project. And 'Thank You' to Irene.

Rural Deanery

A special service for the eleven parishes in Kesh Rural Deanery was held in the Fountain Centre, Kesh, on 24th November. There was a good gathering of people from all the parishes. Thanks to the Rural Dean, to the young people from Colaghty who led the music and to the Revd Ngozi Njoku, rector of the Garrison group who was the preacher. The next such service is planned for Palm Sunday in the parish church in Irvinestown at 7.00pm.

Party

Each year the Pettigo Community Association organise a New Year's Dinner and Entertainment for Senior Citizens. This year the party was held on 8th January and the dinner was excellent. It is always a most pleasant event and it is great to see a community coming together in such an enjoyable way. Thanks to the organisers and to those who fund the event.

Community News

A Cardiac Defibrillator has been acquired for use in the Kesh area. Congratulations and appreciation to the organisers who have made this possible. A support group is being set up. Also a new Walking Club has been formed with a trained leader. Appreciation of those who give of time and skill for the benefit of the community.

Looking Forward to Lent

This year Lent begins on 5th March. To mark the beginning of Lent there will be a service in Drumkeeran Church on Ash Wednesday at 8.00 pm. I hope that a good number from all three parishes in the group will make the effort to come along, join in worship, marking the beginning of the season of Lent.

Sunday School

No Sunday School on 16th February, school half term. Sunday School service on Palm Sunday, 13th April. No Sunday School on Easter Sunday 20th April or on 27th April. A group Sunday School service will be held in Drumkeeran at 11.00 am on 1st June to mark the beginning of the summer break.

Pettigoe Methodist Church 175th Anniversary

Many of our parishioners attended the celebrations on the weekend of 15th/17th November to mark the 175th anniversary of the opening of the Methodist Church in Pettigoe and to celebrate the completion of the restructuring and renovations of their Church Hall. We offer our good wishes to our friends in the Methodist Church and appreciate the sharing of the facilities, and the BB and GB organisations held in the Methodist Hall which many of our young people attend.

Cover

Thanks to the clergy of Ardess who provided emergency pastoral cover from 26th to 28th December.

Letter received by the Diocesan Magazine Committee

During the months of September and October Pettigo Girls' Brigade met in Drumkeeran Parochial Hall due to extensive work being carried out to the Methodist Hall in Pettigo. I would just like to place on record my sincere thanks to Archdeacon Pringle and the Select Vestry for allowing us to use their premises during this time. It was a great hall and every corner of it was used during those two months! We were very well looked after and had the use of all their facilities. A big thank you to Mrs Mabel Armstrong for all her help in getting us settled in and thanks also to the Archdeacon for popping in to us see us on several occasions just to check that we had everything that we needed. Thank you from the Captain (Mrs Margaret Noble) and officers of Pettigo Girls' Brigade.

provide the lovely music for our carols, they really enhanced our evening and added to the Christmas feeling. The Sunday school children recited a poem "the kings from the east" whilst donning their crowns they decorated themselves in Sunday school for the occasion, and they said some closing prayers. Well done to them for doing their job so well, and they all received a gift which they well deserved. Afterwards a time for catching up with friends over some festive treats was enjoyed. Sincere thanks to Churchill Silver band, the readers, the children, all who prepared the church and bought the food and helped to serve and clean up.

Thanks for December Events

As a Parish we are deeply indebted to many people, too numerous to mention, for all the hard work and endless hours they spent in organising the following events:

The Parish Auction
 The Great Cathedral Bake Off
 The Senior Citizens Party
 The Nativity Play
 The Community Carol Service
 The 90th Anniversary Service
 The Nathan Carter Christmas Concert
 The Carol Service
 The Christmas Day Services
 We hope to build on the success of all events next year.

Community Carol Service

On Sunday 8th December a memorable community carol service, in aid of Cancer Focus, was held jointly between St Macartin's Cathedral and St Michael's Roman Catholic Church. The carol service commenced in Saint Michael's Church and then midway during the service the choirs, clergy and congregation processed the short distance across the town's Church Street to St Macartin's Cathedral for the second half of the service. In a sense the pathway Her Majesty The Queen journeyed by crossing the road, was further cemented in a most significant way with again over 400 people doing likewise. Many became rather emotional as all joined in the singing of 'Silent Night' continuously until all the congregation had made their way from one church to the other. It was a truly spectacular occasion, with Christian voices proclaiming the good news in a continuous link across the street, with the Carol resounding in St Michael's and St Macartin's and on the street simultaneously. This no doubt gave witness to the unity in Christ in a very public and powerful way.

Hall Together Now

In November 2012 we outlined the need for extensive work to be carried out on the Cathedral Halls to repair and maintain our inheritance for continued use. We had an original target to raise at least £200,000 over a period of 2 years based on estimates made at that time. December is a busy month in the life of any Parish and St. Macartin's was no exception. Ruby Elliott's Parish Recipe book has raised £385 to date and proved a popular gift; our thanks for all the hard work. Copies are still available for a donation of at least £5. Christmas at Coalter's was an amazing event which added £1600 to the Fund; we thank Norman, Helen, Matthew, Jordan and Sophie for all their hard work and generosity. Final figures are not available yet for the Nathan Carter Christmas Concert but this sell out success raised over £6000.

We thank all the organisations and individuals who have supported our fundraising to date with a total for the year estimated at just over £90,000. Members of the Committee continue to work hard on grant applications and other fundraising ventures. We must all realise the importance of the suite of Halls in the life, work and worship of our Parish and take responsibility for their future. We need, as a Parish, for everyone to make an effort to contribute in some form, whether it is supporting events, running a fundraiser yourself or donating through Hall Development Envelopes. We don't expect everyone's financial situation to permit it but if:

100 families gave £3/week it would raise £15,600
 200 families gave £5/week it would raise £52,000
 100 families gave £10/week it would raise £52,000
 Giving a total of £119,600 with gift aid adding £30,000
 If you feel you have a fundraising idea you would like to share with the Committee, or an event like a coffee morning advertised in the Pew News please contact the office.

Invitation to Anniversary Meal

Our next event will be held on Friday 28th February at 7.30pm in the Cathedral Halls. This will mark the 50th Anniversary of the opening of the Cathedral Halls. on the second Sunday in February and if this is not suitable on another Sunday in February. The missionary focus on Sunday 9th February will be on US United Society (formerly USPG) and Linda Chambers their National Director and secretary of the Association of Missionary Societies will be our guest preacher. ## Top 10 Favourite Hymns

For the last Sunday in January and the first two Sundays in February all parishioners who attend church will be given a ballot paper to vote for their favourite Hymn chosen from the 719 Hymns in our Church Hymnal. If you attend on all three Sundays or more than once on any of those Sundays you will have a vote each time you attend. The votes will be counted and the top ten Hymns will be sang at a special evening service on Sunday 16th February at 7.00pm. This will be an hour of Hymn singing only and the collection will go towards the newly opened 'Organ Fund'. Please make every effort to attend, bring friends as well, and enjoy the count down to see what Hymn is number one! An enjoyable evening not to be missed – come and see if your Hymn has made the top ten!

We especially welcome any readers of this Diocesan Magazine to the service, and of course you are always welcome to any of our services!

Messy Church

For those new to Messy Church, it is a monthly service for all ages, based on creativity, hospitality and celebration. It is a fun way for families from the church and community to build fellowship and find out a bit more about God. St Macartin's held its second Messy Church in December with 75 turning up to a day of Christmas craft, celebration and food. The children made box nativities, Christmas stars and shepherds, decorated gingerbread men, designed Christmas cards and had their faces painted. We then learned a new song called 'Let go!' and heard a short story about the real meaning of Christmas. All of the frolics were topped off by some delicious lasagne (again courtesy of the Mothers' Union).

There is a blog about Messy church, where readers were invited to respond to the open statement, 'Messy Church is great because ...'

Some of the responses were as follows:

Because people learn well through activity.

Because it means our building and people are not just about Sundays.

Because it is inclusive, accessible church for people in our community.

Because it is a safe place for families to 'fit' no matter what shape they are.

Because it is welcoming, involves parents, develops leaders. Sows seeds, changes the church. It's fun. Helps us share Jesus.

Our next Messy Church is from 4:00pm till 6:00pm on Thursday 30th January with craft and celebration on the theme of the Good Shepherd and then in February we meet at the same time on Thursday 20th. All are welcome!

Xplore

Xplore is a programme seeking to meet the spiritual needs of teenagers (14+) in the parish. Currently it takes the form of a monthly late night alternative service in the Cathedral. This involves music from our resident group of musicians, audio-visual offerings and multi-sensory prayers / reflections.

Our Advent Xplore reflected on what it means to wait on God, using a baby bath filled with soil amongst other things. Our hope is to be creative and relevant with our exploration of faith.

All are welcome, and encouraged to bring friends. Forthcoming meetings are 26th January, 16th February, and 16th March meeting at 8:30pm

Mothers' Union

Holy Baptism

If there are any children who are not baptised, the parents should contact the clergy to arrange a suitable time. All Baptisms are held in the context of a Sunday Service and can be at either the morning or the evening service. For older children who may feel self-conscious about being baptised in front of their friends, it is possible to baptise them after a Sunday Evening service.

Adult Confirmation

Any adults, who are not already confirmed, and would like to be confirmed please contact the clergy or fill in a questionnaire available from the Parish Office and a member of the Clergy will contact you.

A New Year Prayer

Loving God, inspire us with courage and hope as we embark on this New Year. May our lives throughout the coming months be an example of your love in our relationships with family, with friends and with those we meet in the community. Bless us with fruitful opportunities this year, grant us the wisdom to grasp them and the resources to realise them, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Gregg. Mary was Emma Kettyles and Joseph was Glen Brock. King Herod was acted by Adam Ovens and Aoife Gregg carried the star. The wise men were Clare Thompson, Oisín Gregg and Levi Love.

Mothers’ Union

Instead of a formal meeting in December, 12 members and friends went to the Ardhowen Theatre to see “Anything Goes”. This was thoroughly enjoyed by all. In January Canon David Skuce conducted a Holy Communion service assisted by the branch leader after which he showed a Powerpoint presentation of his three month sabbatical in South Africa. He had already told us about this trip at the November meeting so we enjoyed seeing pictures of what he had experienced. Some found it hard to believe the conditions that people live in in the black townships.

On Thursday 6th February we have our visitor's night when representatives of CMSI will come along to give us an update of their work overseas. As this is the 200th anniversary of CMSI it is hoped there will be a good attendance. Our Bishop Rt. Revd John McDowell the MU Chaplain will also be present to give us a short address. The market place stall will have many beautiful handmade crafts for sale so it is hoped this will be well supported. "Saddlers" are doing the catering so if you plan to attend please telephone 028677 21583 and inform Winnie Smyth as soon as possible. In March we plan to have our annual dinner.

The Sit-Out

Thank-you to all those who supported the recent pre-Christmas sit-out through wind and rain. You raised over £3000! This year, the chosen causes were Aware-Defeat Depression NI, and Bishops' Appeal (Philippines Aid).

Worship through Lent

There is an opportunity for worship throughout Lent each Wednesday at 8.00pm. These are informal events which will include prayer, reflection and address. They should last approximately 45 minutes and are a useful addition to our worship in Lent.

Bishops' Appeal (General Funds)

With the Church News there is an envelope enclosed for your Bishops' Appeal contribution. Bishops' Appeal was set up by the Bishops of the Church of Ireland and is the Church of Ireland's own world aid and development programme. To fund this, the appeal is dependent on parishes throughout the Church. This fund is available when world disasters strike.

A retired Bishop quoted 'The Bishops' Appeal is the best barometer we have of the authenticity of our claim to be a caring church.'
Thank you, in anticipation, for your contribution for 2014, which can either be placed on the collection plate or given to your Parish Visitor to return.

Farewell

In January the Methodist congregation bid farewell the Revd Robin Toner who takes up a new ministry. Robin supported the Methodist Church during Ken's time as President and we are grateful for his ministry and contribution.

Healing Prayer Service

The evening service in the Parish Room on February 2nd will include a time of prayer for healing and the "laying on of hands" for those who wish it. This ministry occurs at regular intervals throughout the diocese and in the Cathedral and is a very simple, personal and devotional time of blessing. Please feel welcome to attend or mention to Helen Humphries that you would like to be included in our prayers.

News from the Select Vestry

Two pieces of work on our property have recently received approval from the diocese and our headquarters in Dublin.

The first follows a recommendation from our quinquennial inspection that we should provide easier access to the tower. This will involve replacement of the ceiling in the porch and a drop down ladder which is higher than usual. The project is being gifted by the family of the late Robert and Stella Elliott who also donated the church doors.

The second project will open up the baptistery with minimal disruption. The railings will be "reversed" and mounted against the wall to provide a backdrop to the font rather than enclosing it.

Youth Information

2014 has arrived! It's time to finish off those last remaining chocolates and drop the Xbox controller, because we've got plenty to look forward to over the next couple of months.

Evening of worship with the YF

On Sunday 2nd March, Youth Fellowship and church will be coming together for a night of praise and teaching in the Magheracross parish room. We'll aim to combine the informality and energy of YF with the more traditional elements of church, and allow parents to experience the form of worship that their young people helped develop through 'Build-a-Church' in November. It would be great to see this service well supported by both young and old.

Soul Mates 2014

We hope to take a group of our young people to Soul Mates in Lurgan from 7th – 9th March. It's a brilliant weekend of worship, learning, drama, very little sleep and, of course, mighty banter! Early booking costs are lower (£33) so get your young people signed up as soon as possible – it's also a great chance to see the TOM Team again!

YF Programme

As for Youth Fellowship itself, we'll be delving deeper into bigger questions and stories from the Bible as we start our 'God Is...' programme. Each week, our leaders will present a different aspect of God's character ('God is Powerful', for example) and then invite our young people to get stuck in to some group discussion and creative interaction – we hope to prompt a bit of fresh thinking about who our wonderful God is.

Visitors from Saintfield

The Youth Fellowship from Saintfield Parish Church stayed in the Archdale Hall over a weekend in January and our own YF had the opportunity to spend time with them on the Saturday. In particular we shared in a "photo challenge" in which we prowled Ballinamallard looking for opportunities to take pics with a particular theme eg "a scene from a movie" or "performing an act of kindness".

Scouting

During January, the Scouts began their season with an examination of the issues around internet use. The parents were given a preview of the material provided by CEOPS (a section of the PSNI) which highlighted the importance of internet security, privacy and supervision.

Also this term, the scouts will be participating in a wall-climbing competition and an archery competition. Hopefully there will be photographs of them with their trophies in the next edition.

Founders Day will be celebrated in church on the morning of February 23rd when the scouting groups will be taking part in our 11am worship.

GFS

One of the primary focus points of this term's GFS programme will be the completion of their Scripture work and the competition which accompanies this. In particular, they will be looking at the "lost and found" stories about the sheep, the coin and the son. Alongside this work, they will be preparing for the diocesan craft competition. As with the scouts, we look forward to seeing their photos with their trophies!

And as always, please prayerfully remember our young people and the programmes they'll be taking part in, because nothing we do will succeed without God at the helm.

The start of a New Year brings with it new challenges and opportunities and as I write these notes, I am very aware of the repairs and improvements that are being planned for the church. As you read these notes you will have had an opportunity to attend the parish centre and here about the plans. The plans are hopefully going to ensure that the church building remains a warm and comfortable place for the worship of God that will be attractive to the young people of today and the youth of tomorrow not yet born.

We want to remove any barriers that would prevent people from coming to worship God and make it easy to meet with God during our worship whether you are someone who prefers a traditional or more informal style of worship.

We need to be mindful that at the heart of it all are the words of psalm 127v1.

Burial

15th December, 2013, Eileen Hogg, Derryhowlaght, Lisbellaw

We are delighted to welcome Ben James Graydon into the fellowship of Christ's Church. We would like to wish Joe and Jacqueline every happiness in their future life together. Sadly over the Christmas period we had four sudden deaths. It is always sad to lose a loved one over the Christmas period. We extend our deepest sympathy to the Armstrong family on the death of Irene, the Prescho family on the death of Doreen, the Magee family on the death of Dolly and to Robert Hogg on the death of his wife Eileen.

Services in the lead up to and after Christmas were well attended. Christmas past we decided to have an evening carol service at Derrybrusk and there was a very good attendance. The darkness of the evening added to the atmosphere. The Christingle service at Christ Church was enjoyed by all and the singing was excellent. After the Christingles were handed out and the lights switched off, it was wonderful to look down the Church and to feel the calmness and the joy on the face of the people as the candles were lit. What was evident at all our services was the talent of our young people.

We look forward to our bishop coming along on Sunday 23rd February to both of the services. We are delighted that he will be dedicating a silver bread box in memory of Sadie Chartres which has been presented to the parish by her family. We thank too the Chartres family for their very generous gift in memory of a dedicated member of Derrybrusk parish and who was a member of the Mother's Union and select vestry for many years.

As the March edition of the magazine comes out, we will almost be into the season of Lent. Ash Wednesday is pretty late this year and our services for Lent will begin on Ash Wednesday, 5th March, 2014. The first service at 10.30am, in Christ Church, Maguiresbridge will be a service of Holy Communion and at 8.00pm in St. Michael's Parish Church, Derrybrusk we will be using The Second Alternative Form of Evening Prayer.

Maguiresbridge Mother's Union

The first meeting of the New Year took place on Monday 13th January with a service of Holy Communion, followed by a business meeting. During 2013 we were saddened by the death of two of our Indoor Members – Ethel Graydon in June and Dolly Magee in December who was a founder member. This year Maguiresbridge MU will celebrate sixty years in Clogher Diocese.

Christmas 2013

A very big "Thank You!" to all those who made our worship during Advent and Christmas so special. To the Choir and Organists, to those who decorated our church so beautifully, to the Sunday School children and Leaders for the Nativity Play, to those who read lessons and led prayers, to those who provided refreshments and hospitality, to our Sexton and Churchwardens, and to all who contributed in so many ways.

Again, thank you for all that you give – it is very much appreciated.

Sunday School Party

The Sunday School held their Christmas Party on Thursday 12th December in the Parochial Hall. There was a big turnout and the children had a ball! Food and games followed by a disco and a great fun evening for all. Thanks to the Sunday School Teachers for all of their work and commitment (as well as some pretty light footwork from them at the Disco!)

Children and teachers tripping the light fantastic!

Big Sing Sunday

There will be a mix of classics, favourites and a couple of contemporary hymns, during which we shall be 'encouraged' to sing up and sing out. "O come, let us sing unto the Lord"!

Founders Day Service

On Sunday 23rd February 2014 we look forward to welcoming the Uniformed Organisations to the 11.00am service, at which we traditionally remember and give thanks for the life and service of the founders of the Scout and Guide movements. There will be tea and coffee served in the Hall after this service

Farewell to our Ordinand on placement

On Sunday 15th December 2013 we said 'Farewell' to Olivia Downey, following her 10 week placement with us in Rossorry. Olivia is a second year Ordinand at the Church of Ireland Theological Institute. During her time in Rossorry she assisted in worship and preached, visited parishioners at home and in hospital, learned about the administrative aspects of the parish, took part in baptism preparations and participated in baptism services, and assisted with pre-Christmas Home Communion. All who met with her in Rossorry were very impressed with her friendliness and easy manner, as well as her warmth, compassion and commitment to service of our Lord Jesus Christ. We wish Olivia the very best for her continued studies, and pray that she will be richly blessed as she journeys the not always easy route of training for ministry.

Olivia Downey receives a gift from the parish presented by Nathan Armstrong and Canon Arthur Barrett

Rossorry Choir Farewell

In recent months, a number of choir members have decided that the time is right to retire from regular participation in the choir. Patsy Long, Daisy Mills and Olive McFadden retired some time ago, and Ethel Doherty retired earlier in 2013. Christmas 2013 marked the retirement of Vera Devers, Sadie Farrell, Anna and Johnston Erwin. We are deeply saddened to lose these wonderful and dedicated members of our choir, but are also deeply grateful to them all for the years of service which they have given to Rossorry Parish. Between them, they have given over 200 years of service! It is a remarkable achievement. At the Carol Service on Sunday 22nd December 2014, the Rector presented those present each with a Royal School of Church Music Certificate, acknowledging their many years of dedicated, committed and talented service to God through worship in Rossorry Parish. We wish them all a very happy retirement from choir life, but are assured that we shall continue to be blessed by their voices in the congregation!

Christmas Carol Services

Thank you to all the young people who took part in our carol service on 15th December. In Clabby they led the prayers, had a nativity play and read the scriptures. Thank you also to Mrs. Ann Bloomfield and the music group who led the worship. Gifts were donated for use by the Salvation Army for their Christmas appeal.

At the service in Tempo, young people read the scriptures and prayers. Thank you to the organist Mrs. Carol Graham and the choir for leading the worship and to Mr. Mark McDonald for playing two Christmas selections of music on the flute.

On Sunday 22nd December the service of lessons and carols was held in each church. Again thanks to our organists, Mr. Ryan Crawford and Miss Audrey Woods (Clabby) and Mrs. Carol Graham (Tempo) for leading the worship and to those who read the scriptures.

Lent 2014

The services commence each Wednesday from Ash Wednesday (5th March) at 8pm, alternating between each Church.

Tempo - Ash Wednesday and on 19th March and 2nd April.
Clabby - 12th March, 26th March and 9th April.

The theme will be "Three" when we shall be examining some of the places we come across three in scripture.

The season of Lent is soon dawning upon us. The Church has always used it as a time to meditate and reflect upon the suffering of Christ. The Psalm most closely associated with Ash Wednesday is Psalm 51. King David wrote this Psalm as his personal and public repentance for his sins committed against God in his extra martial affair with Bathsheba. The Psalm recounts:

- 1) The problem of sin David's request in verses 1-2, what is sin? Shows what God has and what he needs.
- 2) The seriousness of sin: David's repentance in verses 3-4. Genuine repentance involves the need to admit sin's presence, confront its seriousness and acknowledge its depth.
- 3) The answer to sin: David's restoration in verses 7-9. David asks God to de-sin him, restore him and pardon him.
- 4) The victory over sin: David's renewal verses 10-14. As a result of God's forgiveness, he looks to become a new person, have a new testimony and engage in a new mission.

For through the shed blood of Christ on the cross and his perfectly accomplished work there by his costly sacrifice we too can experience the same as David. Our sin may not be as great, but we are all sinners in God's sight. We all need to confess and repent of sin. Then the old has passed away and we become a new person in Christ (2 Corinthians 5:17-19).

Dear Parishioners,

The first Sunday of February 2014 is the Feast of The Presentation of Christ in the Temple. The infant Jesus is brought according to the traditions of the Jewish faith to the Temple at Jerusalem for circumcision and to be consecrated to the Lord like every first born Jewish son.

From this rite of the Jewish faith in Luke's gospel we meet an old woman Anna a prophetess who told all who would listen about the child and what he would do as she gave thanks to God.

We also meet Simeon, who declares that wonderful passage of scripture we today call the Nunc Dimittis. "Lord now let your servant depart in peace." Anna declares what is to come while Simeon almost like a sigh declares the time of Salvation he, his people and the world have waited on has come to be. In Baptism we too are dedicated to God and we are called to seek the Holy Spirit. The children we have and especially those we are God parents to are our responsibility in preparing for the Holy Spirit to be revealed in them. That is a duty of love but also a duty of prayer and thanksgiving. May we be reminded in the simple faith of Simeon and Anna of the grace of God that is upon us in our Baptism calling to faith.

Trotry Coffee Morning and Wreath Sale

This regular Christmas event was very successful in 2013 raising over £1100. The parishioners under the supervision of Mrs. Barbara Irvine produced almost 50 wreaths of outstanding beauty and quality. Not only that but the two nights of producing them saw much fun and craic in the parish hall. Many thanks to all who helped or supported this event.

Trotry Organ

The organ was dedicated on the Sunday before Christmas at a favourite carols and hymn service. The organ was played by Mr. Billy McBride and dedicated by the rector. The music was delightful and the mixture of old and modern hymns permitted a lovely atmosphere to our worship. Thanks to gifts to the parish, donations in lieu of flowers and fund raising the £8000 outlay for the organ has been paid with little draw on parish finances.

Nine Lessons and Carols

Killadeas: A delightful carol service was organised and led by the Sunday school with contributions from the Parish Choir led by Mrs. Joan Nelson. All the children who read did so with fluency and special thanks to Rhoda Farrelly for preparing them so well.

Trotry

Again we had a beautiful musical contribution from the Sunday School and parish choir under Mrs. Barbara Somerville. Thanks to all the readers who delivered their readings with clarity.

Both services were well attended with almost 50% of our parishioners in attendance at these services.

Trotry Lodge Collarettes and Carols

Thanks to all who came to the Lodge carol service from far and wide. The collection for The Macular Society raised £367. The lodge greatly appreciate our own Trotry band and Letterbreen silver band along with the parish organist Mrs. Somerville and choir in leading the wonderful music at the service.

During the service Mr. Derek Farrell (Worshipful Master Trotry 647) was presented with a Bible for work he has undertaken in the School House for the benefit of the parish and the lodge. Tea was served by the parish ladies and the lodge members who wish to thank Mrs. Doris Byers for providing the mince pies.

Trotry School House

Work should have commenced on refurbishment of the toilets at the school house. The corrugated iron roof is to be replaced with slates and insulated. The toilets are to be decorated and the sanitary ware replaced. It is hoped that the work can be completed without "inconvenience at the conveniences."

Killadeas Priory and Hall

The hall has had work carried out to absorb sound when in use by the parish at social functions. The work has involved fitting sound absorbing tiles to the hall and the improvement is remarkable.

The Church is due to have some works undertaken in and around the font over the next few months to improve its visual appearance.

Tuesday Club

On January 14th 2014 the Tuesday club had a meal in Mahon's Hotel, Irvinestown. The Rector and Mrs. Watson were guests of the club. A wonderful meal and time was had by all who attended. The club sent best wishes to Miss. Marie McCordick who has been indisposed. Apologies that the event photographs could not be included due to technical problems.

Lent

Details of our Ash Wednesday services and our Lenten services will appear in the March diocesan magazine.

Let's celebrate our Church by understanding our past and by looking forward to its future with its challenges and its blessings.
